

Eco Long Sleeved Classic Chef Jacket

This unisex chef jacket is made from a sustainable blend of 65% recycled polyester and 35% cotton sourced from the Better Cotton Initiative (BCI), with a fabric weight of 195 gsm.

It recycles up to 11 plastic bottles per jacket, and with up to 50% less energy used to produce recycled polyester fabric, the CO₂ emissions from its' production are much lower than virgin cotton alternatives. In addition to its eco-friendly features, this high-quality chef's jacket is crafted from a fabric blend that provides comfort with its lightweight, soft texture and durability, making it perfect for even the most demanding kitchen environments.

It features 10 nickel-plated ring press stud fastenings in a concealed button design, a double pen pocket on the left sleeve, and a mandarin collar stand with top stitching to combine eco-friendly materials with a professional, functional design.
